

Weekly Wisdom from a GENIUS:

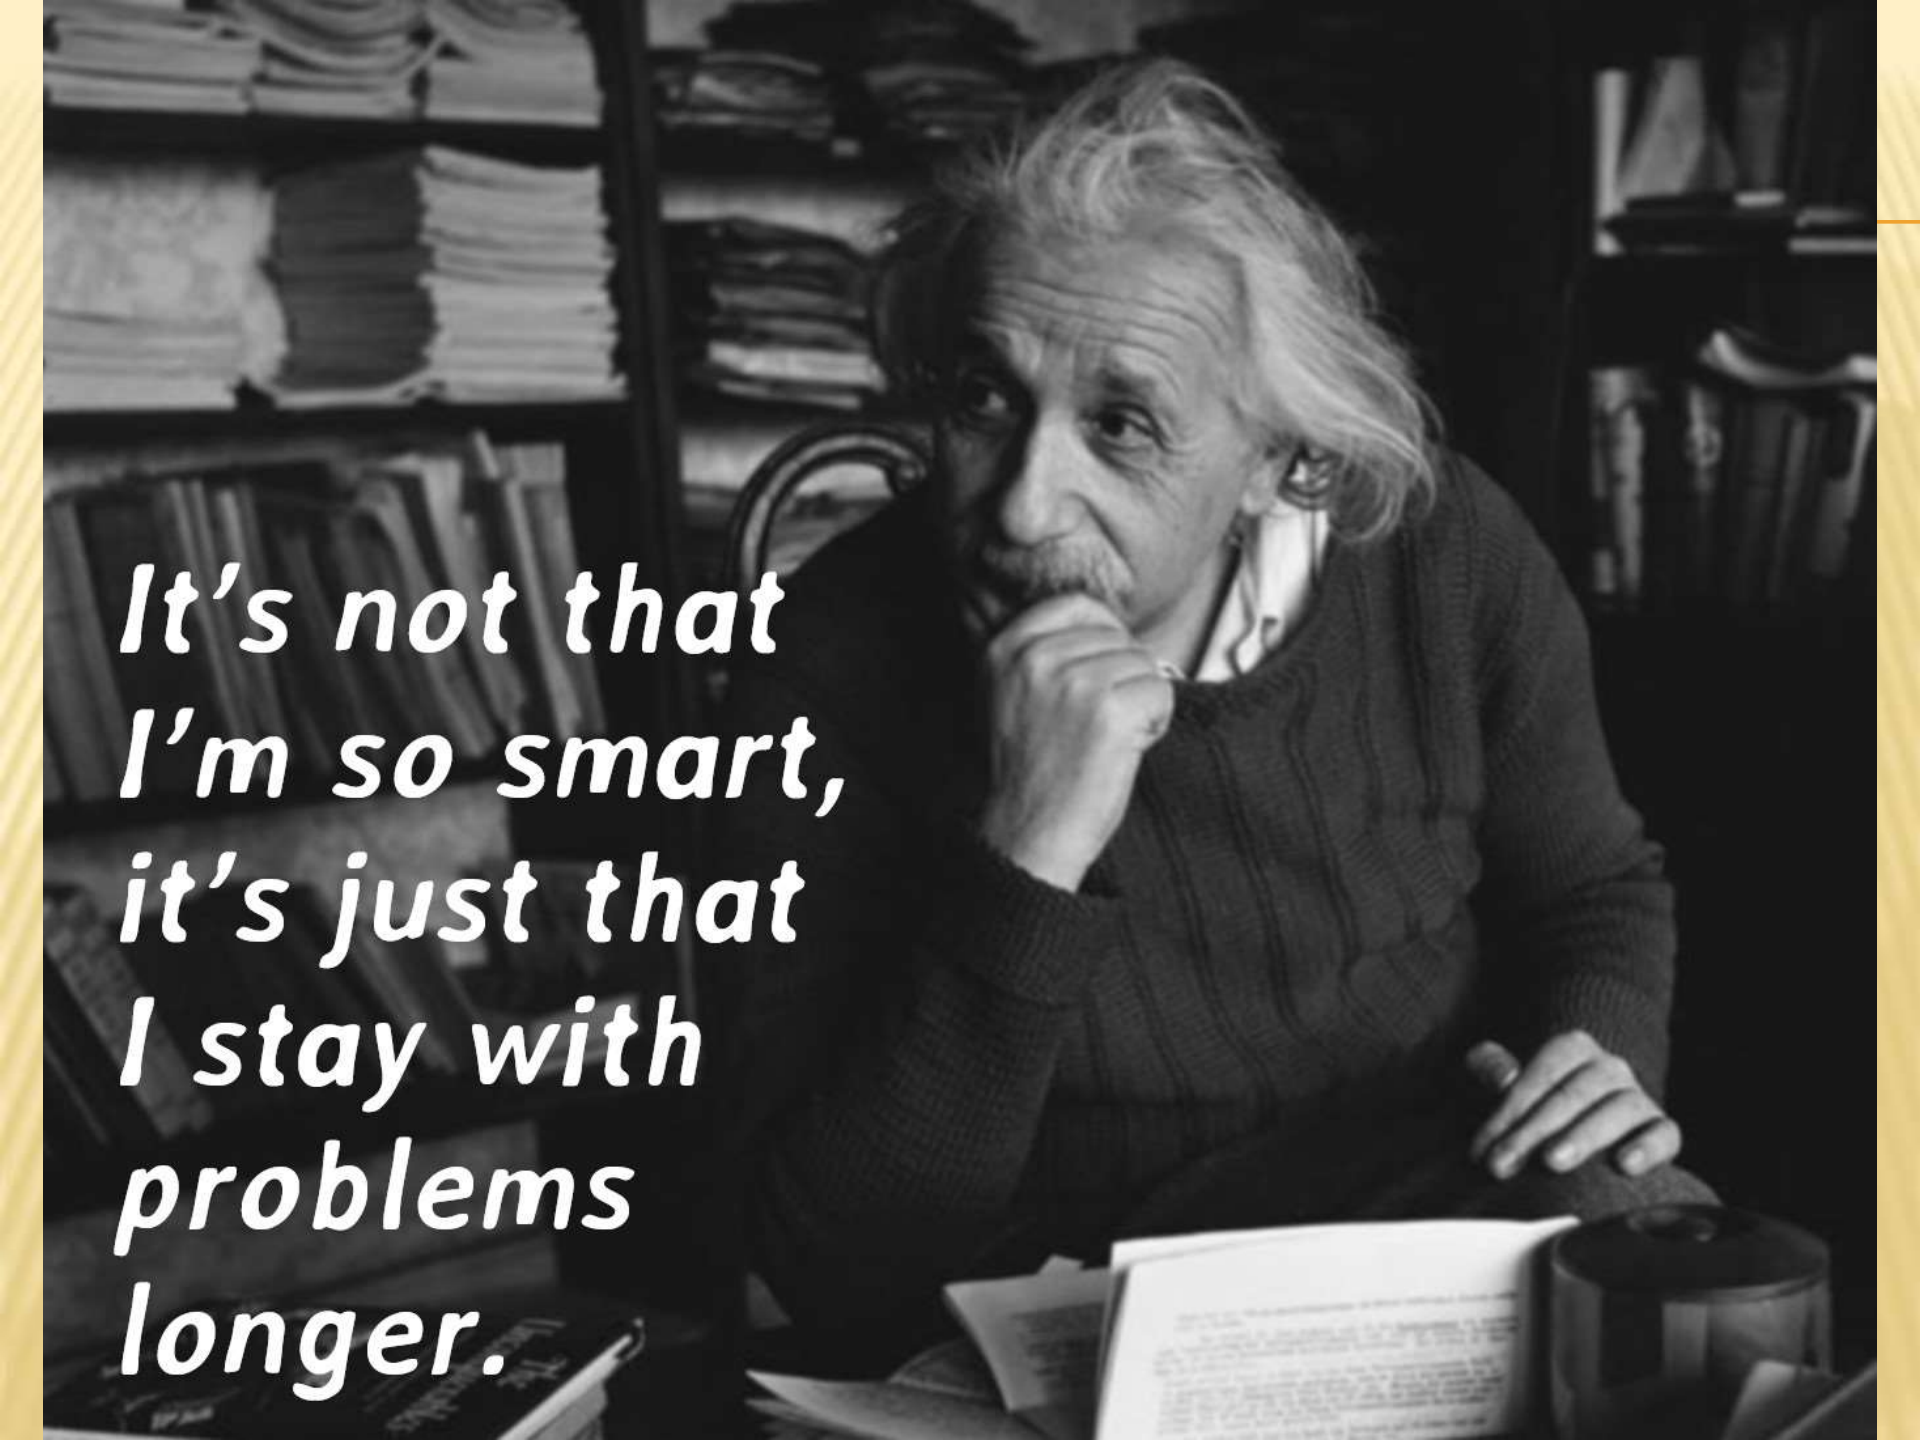

EINSTEIN QUOTES

*Everybody is a genius. But if you judge a fish by its ability to climb
a tree, it will live its whole
life believing
that it is stupid.*

Education is not the learning of facts, it's rather the training of the mind to think.

*It's not that I'm so smart,
it's just that I stay with problems
longer.*

*Life is like riding a bicycle. To keep your balance you
must keep moving.*

*A person
who never made a mistake
never tried
anything new.*

The background is filled with bookshelves containing numerous books. The quote "Once you stop learning you start dying." is overlaid in white, italicized text at the bottom of the image.

Once you stop learning you start dying.

A black and white portrait of Albert Einstein, showing him from the chest up. He has his characteristic wild, white hair and a mustache. His hands are clasped together in front of him, resting on a surface. He is looking slightly to the right of the camera with a thoughtful expression. The background is dark and out of focus.

Education is what remains after one has forgotten what one has learned in school.

What is right is not always popular, and what is popular is not always right.

A black and white photograph of Albert Einstein standing in a library. He is wearing a dark suit, a white shirt, and a patterned tie. He has his characteristic wild hair and a mustache. He is looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression. The background is filled with bookshelves packed with books. The lighting is soft, highlighting his face and the texture of his clothing. The overall tone is intellectual and serene.

*Few are those who see with their own
eyes and feel with their own hearts.*

A man should look for what is, and not for what he thinks should be.

In the middle of difficulty lies opportunity.

A ship is always safe at shore but that is not what it's built for.

Imagination is more important than knowledge. Knowledge is limited. Imagination encircles the world.

Anger dwells only in the bosom of fools.

A black and white portrait of Albert Einstein, showing his characteristic wild, wavy hair and a mustache. He is wearing a dark suit jacket over a white collared shirt and a dark tie. The portrait is centered against a dark background. The image is framed by a yellow border with a subtle diagonal line pattern. A thin orange horizontal line is visible near the top of the yellow border on the left side.

*The important thing is to not stop questioning.
Curiosity has its own reason for existing.*

*Look deep into nature,
and then you will understand everything
better.*

*He who can no longer
pause to wonder and stand rapt in awe, is as good as dead; his eyes are closed.*

Try not to become a man of success, but rather try to become a man of value.

*I have no
special talent.
I am only
passionately curious.*

Never give up on what you really want to do. The person with big dreams is more powerful than the one with all the facts.

*Any intelligent fool can make things bigger and
more complex...
It takes a touch
of genius – and a lot of courage to move in the opposite direction.*

I speak to everyone in the same way, whether he is the garbage man or the president of the university.

*It has become appallingly
obvious that our technology
has exceeded
our humanity.*

Unthinking respect for authority is the greatest enemy of truth.

*Great spirits
have always encountered
violent opposition from mediocre minds.*

*Weak people
revenge.
Strong people
forgive.
Intelligent
people ignore.*
